Applying, applying and accelerating evidence-based practices in biology education

Monday, October 10, 2022
12:00PM | HCK 132

In her talk, Elli Theobald will provide an overview of her efforts to apply evidence-based practices in introductory Biology courses, advance the use of these practices through her research and graduate-level coursework, and accelerate the adoption and support of these practices through joint work with undergraduate, graduate, and post-doctoral students and researchers.
